GENERAL NEWS.

The Times Illustrates Frauds Under the Brady Rule.

Two Strikes at Chicago, New York and Cleveland—Execution of a Negro Woman for the Murder of Husband—Etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, April 22.—The Times says: "The [illegible] story is to be published in [illegible] of mail route contracts between [illegible] Park [illegible] and [illegible] furnishes an excellent illustration of the postoffice management which [illegible] attempts to whitewash and Hayes was persuaded to overlook. A contract is made for weekly conveyance of mails, consisting of about three letters a week, between the two points named. The original contractors sublet the contract, which they accepted at [illegible] to a person whom they agree to pay $17,000, or [illegible] more than the government allows them. The reason of this liberality became apparent when the postal ring in Washington succeeded in having the service made weekly and in getting the compensation increased so that their net profit is $9700. Not satisfied with this share, the conspirators succeeded in establishing a daily mail service between Mineral Park and Pioche at an annual sum of [illegible], of which the subcontractor received but [illegible]. By this time the original contractors have made way for S. W. Dorsey, who thus secures $24,000 a year for his own profit and that of his confederates. The story is eloquent enough to dispense with the necessity for comment. The Times intimates that other retirements will probably follow Brady's as a result of the investigation now going on. It is possible that the ring within the department, with its probable allies in the treasury, may have steered clear of any offense of which cognizance could be taken by a criminal court, but if nobody can be sent to the penitentiary there should at least be no difficulty in proceeding to a successful issue suits for restitution of moneys secured by obvious collusion and conspiracy."

Wall Street Gossip—Arrangement in the Villard Case.

NEW YORK, April 22.—From the Commercial Bulletin: It begins to look as if the present movement in Wall street was the beginning of a spring and summer campaign, but this is by no means certain, yet next month it is expected that the southwestern railroads of Gould will be brought together by consolidation; but whether this will be preceded or followed by the long expected rise in these stocks remains to be seen.

The recent sharp rise in International & Great Northern is attributed to Sage, who is charged by some of his associates with having acted contrary to an express understanding between them and him.

Respecting the Northern Pacific, while there is no announcement of the settlement of Villard's suits, yet there is authority for the statement that an understanding has been arrived at which may result in settlement.

Vanderbilt will sail for Europe next week and return by the same steamer. His friends represent that he is indifferent about the new parallel line to the lake shore. When this line is completed, however, he may think differently about the matter.

The directors of the Mutual Union Telegraph Company have agreed to increase the capital stock of the company to $10,000,000 for the purpose of extending its lines. This will include a line from Boston through Buffalo and Cleveland to Chicago, thence to Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Louisville, Cincinnati, Columbus, Pittsburg and all other important intermediate places. Poles will be strung with six wires and with room for thirty.

"Shadows of Shasta."

NEW YORK, April 22.—The Tribune publishes notices of Joaquin Miller's new book, "The Indian Tragedy; or Shadows of Shasta." It is a highly dramatic and impressive exposure of hideous outrages perpetrated by the United States government upon western Indians. Miller gives in his introduction his reason for writing the book, "Because last year in the heart of the Sierras I saw women and children chained together and marched down from their cool healthy homes to degradation and death on a reservation. At the side of this long chained line, urged on and kept in order by bayonets, rode a young officer, splendid in gold and brass and newly furnished from that now famous charity school on the Hudson. These women and children were guilty of no crime. They were not even accused of wrong, but their fathers and brothers lay dead in battle harness on the mountain heights and in the lava beds, and these few silent survivors, like the Israel of old, were being led into captivity, but unlike the chosen children, never to return to the beloved heart of their mountains." The Tribune [illegible] "Shadows" of Shasta [illegible] impressiveness from the fervor and sincerity of the author. From the art which he has [illegible] the foreground of his work, the sufferings of the Indians and the degrading of the government, which makes its army an instrument for oppression, pillaging the weak and [illegible] thieves."

The New York Strike.

The strike of car drivers is now over, but a general strike is expected to-morrow for less hours or more wages.

Advertising Dodge.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A dinner was given tonight to Samuel Brannan, of California, who arrived from Mexico last Monday, by Wager H. Townsend and others interested in his Sonora colonization scheme. Twenty-five gentlemen sat down at Thompson's dining rooms, Broadway. The menu was printed on satin. Dispatches were read from Hon. Dwight Townsend, Hon. Manuel Pesqueira, a senator from Yucatan, Brannan's attorney, C. Edward Lester, J. C. Kemble and others. Brannan states that he has [illegible] families already on the borders and within Sonora to colonize his grant of 12 leagues, situated between the Mayo and Yaqui rivers, and a surveying party is in the field to survey the boundaries of the grant. He proposes to send a ship load of colonizing emigrants from here. He has the full approval of the Mexican government. Senator Pesqueira accompanies him to Sonora via San Francisco next week. A syndicate is forming here to aid him. He has also a railroad concession from his proposed city to the United States line. Much enthusiasm was manifested.

A Singular Case.

ALBANY, N.Y., April 22.—Papers publish a curious story of an attempt by a man named Josiah Christian to abduct the wife of Joseph Schumm, by which it appears that Christian and his two brothers are members of a new church in California to which they attempted to make the Schumms converts. They believe, in the literal construction of Bible language and that a convert, if a female, shall leave her husband, parents, children all for service in the faith. They do not state where the community in California is located. They wanted Mrs. Schumm to leave her husband if he refused to go, and accompany them to the Pacific Coast. In his preliminary examination Christian defended his course with much warmth and claimed that according to the Bible a woman was justified in leaving her husband and children to accompany himself and brothers to the community which is believed to exist in California.

Foolish Reports Denied.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—Thos. Allen, late president of the Iron Mountain railroad, and congressman elect from the second district of this city, whose name has been connected in eastern newspapers with an alleged project for the conquest of Mexico by an armed force under Grant, denies most emphatically knowing anything about the matter. He says that such rumors are not only sensational but silly. He has no financial interest in Mexico and thinks the only conquest of that country that can or will be made is a commercial one by building railroads in it and opening it up to trade and commerce. He knows very little of Gen. Grant's projects in Mexico, but is entirely satisfied that he has no thought of armed invasion and would be one of the last men in the country to favor such a scheme.

Mysterious Butchery in Texas.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—A band of armed men rode up to the house of a man named McLauren, living at the little town of Fred. Edwards Co., Texas, last Tuesday, and deliberately murdered McLauren, his wife and a young man living with them, named Leas. No cause is given for the horrible act and the perpetrators of it are unknown. Plunder evidently was not their object as nothing in the house was disturbed.

Not the Man.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The body found yesterday in the customhouse building was at first believed to be that of E. A. Thomalin, a defaulting internal revenue clerk, but letters have been received from him in South America within three weeks expressing his intention of returning here and giving himself up.

The Chicago Strikes.

The railroad strike continues in some departments. The Michigan Central has surrendered to the men. The only place where the hands made any demonstration was at the Lake Shore depot, they having been particularly irritated by the management of that road. The men, however, were not violent.

The Floods.

The water here during last night receded four inches, and the mills, etc., which were stopped by the flood have resumed operations. Specials from Topeka, Kansas, says that soaking rains have visited all parts of Kansas within the last 48 hours. Land department bulletins say the large rainfalls have been a great benefit to growing wheat.

The Cleveland Strike.

CLEVELAND, April 22.—The street railway men's strike is not as successful as the strikers hoped. To-day several lines are running as usual and all getting in customary time. The strikers say that the ladies are with them, but ladies' sympathy is more sentimental than negotiable and will not aid them much in their scheme to start an opposition line which they propose to do.

Execution of a Negro Woman.

HERNANDO, Va., April 22.—Lucinda Fowlkes, colored, was hanged at the Lunenburg courthouse to-day for the murder of her husband in January last. Only the necessary officers, the preacher, and three other persons witnessed the execution. The woman said that the [illegible] Dennis, suspected of complicity, "was just as near as I am." She [illegible] her husband [illegible]

Execution in South Carolina.

[illegible], April 22.—Abram Martin was hanged to-day for the murder of his wife on the 15th of July last.

The Howe Case.

[illegible], April 22.—In the Howe ladies' deposit trial, Augustus Ross, assignee in insolvency, reported to the probate court, testified that Mrs. Howe, after her incarceration, told him that if she got out of jail she would pay everybody off, although not all at one time. She said she was not at liberty to disclose the means whereby she [illegible] accomplish this. Ross told her [illegible] about [illegible] depositors and [illegible] them all would [illegible] about [illegible]. He

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Murder at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—At about half past ten [illegible] a shooting affray occurred at the corner of Washington and Kearny streets, between Thos. W. Cunningham and [illegible] Chandler, in which the former was killed and the latter wounded though not dangerously. Family quarrels were the cause of the tragedy, the parties having married sisters. Chandler claims that Cunningham sought to break up his family, in consequence of which Chandler's wife left him and sued for a divorce. He also claims that Cunningham first drew a pistol with threatening language. Cunningham is a commission merchant. Chandler was formerly employed in the mint and was subsequently a member of the California board of brokers. Later he has been out of business, but is expecting a government appointment. It is reported that he is a nephew of the late Zach Chandler.

Another Report.

A more extended statement by Chandler, regarding the tragedy, is to the following effect: Owing to the influence of Cunningham, Mrs. Chandler commenced proceedings for a divorce. Chandler filed a counter bill. Meantime Mrs. Chandler left her home and took up her residence with Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham. Last Friday Chandler went to Cunningham's house for the purpose of seeing his child. He was requested to wait outside. While there he was assaulted by Cunningham and another man, but nothing serious occurred. Chandler then obtained an order of the court to see his child. Meantime a dispute arose regarding the ownership of a trunk or some other piece of personal property, and this morning the case came up in Justice Ryan's court, corner of Washington and Kearny streets. Before its conclusion Cunningham left the court room. Soon after Chandler started out and met Cunningham at the door. Chandler tried to effect that he loved his wife and wanted no trouble and asked if some amicable arrangement could not be had. Cunningham replied by drawing a revolver and saying, "Well, you have it now." On the impulse of self-preservation Chandler drew and emptied the contents of his revolver at his antagonist. One shot struck him squarely in the forehead and he fell. Chandler received one shot which passed through his arm, lodging in his side, inflicting a flesh wound. All the chambers of Chandler's pistol were found empty and four of Cunningham's. Cunningham was still breathing when found, but died in a few moments.

John Sax has let the contract for the erection of his new flouring mills at McMinnville, and work will commence on them next week. Messrs. Kirkpatrick, Buck & Tyler of McMinnville are the contractors. Seven bids were put in upon the work, and among the whole lot there was not over $3 difference, the above named getting the job at $15,000.

A Beaverton correspondent says: A large amount of money has been expended here during the last two years opening and digging deeper the main ditches and putting in underdrains, and as a consequence our farmers had that this year notwithstanding the almost unprecedented rainfall they can plant their seed in warm, dry soil during March and April, a fact almost unknown in the history of Beaverton.

Heppner.—On Sunday last the wife of Thomas Steadly, of Salt creek, was visiting at Mr. Butler's, and was sitting near the stove with her infant, about seven months old, in her arms, when Mrs. Butler, in trying to pour some water from a large teakettle, upset the same, the contents drenching the child and scalding Mrs. Steadly very severely in the face and on the hands. The injuries sustained by the child have produced internal inflammation, and its recovery is extremely doubtful, the attending physician thinks there is some chance of its recovery.

Albany Democrat: Samuel H. Williams, aged 14 years, a son of H. S. Williams, of Sodaville, was out hunting the other day, and his rifle having been loaded for some time he fired at a mark, wishing to reload, and in the act dropped his patching, which he stooped down to pick up. The powder horn was still unstopped, and the old patch which had passed out of the gun had taken fire and was lying on the ground, still burning. Some powder ran from the horn, which contained a quarter of a pound, and came in contact with the burning patch. The whole exploded, and the boy lay senseless on the ground from 12 o'clock until 3 P. M. He has recovered from the shock and sustained no serious damage, except being pretty badly powder burned.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Senator Miller Pushing the New Chinese Treaties.

More of the Brady Business—The Oregonian Quoted in the Senate—Signs of a Break in the Deadlock.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, April [illegible].

Senator Miller has [illegible] actively been exerting himself to get the [illegible] ratified [illegible] the senate deadlock will not [illegible] of at least a portion of the [illegible] executive business, his principal object being to obtain action on the Chinese treaty, which [illegible] at the head of the calendar. The [illegible] be wholly lost if the deadlock were [illegible] until next autumn, or if the senate should [illegible] adjourn until next winter without taking action on them, for they expressly provide that the necessary exchange of ratifications shall take place in Pekin not later than the 15th of November. He is fully impressed [illegible] with [illegible] importance and the threatened danger of delay.

Gen. Miller has not [illegible] his colleagues the advisability of [illegible] cation of the present [illegible] made known to several of the [illegible] them to break the deadlock [illegible] with the democrats [illegible] motion to go into executive [illegible] without much further delay. Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The republican caucus meets Tuesday next instead of to-morrow.

An Old Story.

The president has expressed to a visiting republican earnest desire for confirmation of the most important nominations in order to relieve the departments of the government from embarrassment and confusion. The republicans now need to [illegible] confirmation also, and before the middle of next week will hold a caucus to consider the matter. One hundred and fifty-four nominations are pending. The judiciary committee will consider the nominations before it to-morrow morning, the most prominent being that of Stanley Matthews. The republicans declare they will still control business. [illegible] of petitions have been received from [illegible] against the confirmation of Adron as postmaster [illegible]

Pacific Coast Papers Quoted in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—During debate [illegible] to-day, Brown of Georgia, in order to prove the truth of his recent statement that many republican papers asserted the existence of a corrupt bargain between the republicans and Mahone, sent up to the clerk's desk and had read a number of extracts, among which were three from the Sacramento Record-Union, and one each from the San Francisco Argonaut, Portland Oregonian and Denver Tribune. They referred to the senator variously as a discreditable and repudiated compact, a squabble beneath the dignity of the senate, etc., and all contained allusions to Mahone of the most contemptuous and disparaging character,—the Record-Union describing him as a disreputable adventurer and The Oregonian, a political gambler who should be [illegible] When the first extract was read, Burnside asked that the Record-Union could be properly designated a republican paper, and in reply cited Miller as his authority. Miller stated that it was an independent paper and not a republican journal. Farley said that he had never before heard the Record-Union described as an independent paper. In 1867 there had been a division in the republican party, one wing being headed by Gorham and Sargent, the other by Riddle and Booth. The Record-Union had assumed a sort of supervision over both wings. It had at no time failed in support of the republican nominees for president. It had been a warm supporter of Hayes and of Garfield.

Burnside—In 1867 did it not support the democratic candidate for governor?

Farley—My recollection is that the Record-Union was not then in existence.

Miller—What the senator says about its being a republican paper and supporting the national republican party, is true as far as it goes. But it is a paper the managers of which pride themselves on their independence. It has so happened that the republican nominees for the past two years have been such men as met with their approval and judgment.

Farley—Did not this paper and all its proprietors support the republican ticket and the members of the legislature which elected my colleague?

Miller—I believe it did, because acting as an independent journal it supported what it thought to be the best side, as it was. [Laughter.]

With reference to the Argonaut, Miller said it was a literary and not a political paper.

Brown—Did that paper support the nominee of the republican convention?

Miller—It did in a certain way.

Brown—Then it is republican enough for my purpose.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 23, 1881.

THE SITUATION AT WASHINGTON.

A new administration should begin in an independent, courageous way. Else it will find that the course of politics, so far from running smooth, will become rougher and rougher as it proceeds. Two capital mistakes have been made. First, the republicans of the senate began and have continued a contest over the election of the petty officers who are to keep its doors, run upon its errands and do its chores generally. Partisanship has never sunk lower, or shown to more pitiful disadvantage than in this puny conflict. There is not a single participant in it who should not feel ashamed of his participation and be disgusted with the spirit in which it is being conducted. The folly at the bottom of the whole proceeding is further signalized by the bargain with Mahone. When the republican party cannot find better business than that of coddling repudiation and hobnobbing with thievery it would be well to lie quiet and wait till it finds an opportunity to contend with the hope of success for honest objects. The other mistake has been made by President Garfield himself. No one can justly question the rectitude of his intentions. But he has fallen into the error of trying to appease the spoil hunters; and, as he has too high a sense of the duties of his position to yield to them to the full extent of their claims, they now turn and rend him. The nominations which he has sent in, in the hope of "harmonizing" the party, have developed on sharper lines the opposing factions in it. Thus the dead-lock in the senate, which at first was the result of the effort of the democrats to resist the change of the senate's officers, is now continued in the form of a strife between two factions of the republicans for advantage in the distribution of spoils. It is the most miserable contest ever yet carried on in the name of the republican party.

The doctrine that the senators shall have absolute dispensation of the offices in their respective states is the main force which is driving this contest on. This doctrine, though courageously disputed by President Hayes, was too deeply planted to be torn up altogether by the roots in a single presidential term. President Garfield mistakenly took a course that gave its advocates new courage. He began by liberally appointing and reappointing the adherents of Conkling and other senators to office, instead of pursuing a course like that of his predecessor, wholly independent of their dictation or suggestion. But he could not yield to them absolutely; he felt that he must not become a mere executive clerk to record their will, and therefore he undertook to exercise his own judgment in making certain important appointments. He attempted to carry himself in a position of neutrality between the Conkling and anti-Conkling republicans, and to this end proposed division of the offices between them. The effort to play the part of a peace-maker has intensified the war. Conkling's demand is that his authority shall be absolute over the republicans in his state, and that the offices shall all be given into his hands to maintain this absolutism. The issue is squarely made. No one knows better than General Garfield that the republican party can not be pledged and given over to the Conkling policy, and live. He therefore must sooner or later meet the issue. He can not long temporize with it.

The course pursued by President Hayes was a sound one; it commanded the respect of the country, and enabled the republican party to win its recent great victory. It stands as an example for President Garfield. It points the way to a successful administration and to an invincible republican party. The opposite course points to disintegration and defeat. Just let the president surrender his office to the insolent personal dictation of the robber barons who, as members of the senate, claim this absolute control, and then wait to see what the republican party will do about it. Nor is any middle course practicable. It is useless to waste time in trying to "solder impossibilities." That, in this case, would be the course of the temporizer, and would be worse than all.

AMERICAN SHIPPING INTERESTS.

A line of steamers has been established between Canada and Brazil. The enterprise marks another step in the decline of the carrying trade of the United States. Hitherto this country has maintained a very considerable trade with Brazil. We have suffered less in that particular quarter than in most others. But Canada, with cheaper vessels than we have or can obtain, now starts in the Brazilian trade. The result will be the old story over again. Under our system competition for the carrying trade with those who pursue a more enlightened policy than ours, is impossible. The Pall Mall Gazette distinctly says that while twenty years ago the United States threatened to become the rival of England as the great carrier for other nations on the high seas, she has now given up, apparently, all hope of competition. Since 1870 the effective mercantile tonnage of Great Britain advanced from 8,500,000 to 14,000,000. In the same time American tonnage, both sailing and steam fell 17 per cent. "Between 1856 and 1879 the tonnage of vessels built in the United States," says the Gazette triumphantly, "fell by more than 50 per cent." It is a hard truth for us that the London journal tells us these words; and the citizen of the United States must confess with humiliation that the decline of American tonnage is not only not yet arrested, but that it still continues at a rate which in a few years more promises its almost total extinction.

Noting that we are taunted by the fact that in other great sea highways besides that between England and America we have given the right of way to Great Britain, and that the shipping of Canada is steadily approaching that of the United States, the New York Tribune admits that there is too much in these and other reminders to make them comfortable reading; yet like too many of our newspapers it seems to lack the courage to attack the real cause of it all, namely our navigation laws and so-called protective system. Nearly all our trade in former times was carried in American vessels. Now American vessels, even in our own trade, are almost unknown. More and more as producers we are steadily becoming dependent on foreign ship owners. On the Pacific Coast we are virtually at their mercy. Here is a fact which will offset all the theories ever started to prove the "beneficence" of our system. It shows, moreover, in terms so plain that he who runs may read, how a people may be oppressed and practically ruined by persistence in a policy which they are asked to believe "protects" them.

Is the so-called preacher Rev. L. A. Banks—editor of a so-called temperance paper printed at Vancouver—the same Rev. L. A. Banks who was grand chaplain of the order of Good Templars in Oregon, and against whom were brought charges of violating the obligations of a Good Templar, by drinking, which charges as the proof confronted him he was obliged to confess were true, whereupon as it was desired to avoid a public scandal he was informed that he could make his choice of withdrawing from the order or taking the obligation anew? If this is the same Rev. L. A. Banks, all that was said about him in a paragraph recently in THE OREGONIAN was justifiable, and more. Doubtless it was an exceedingly good thing for Rev. L. A. Banks to reform, [illegible] of indeed his reformation is [illegible]. It is to be hoped he will keep [illegible]. But there is danger always that those people who yesterday violated their temperance obligation, and who are the most extreme and fanatical of temperance men to-day will again be off their balance to-morrow. The best temperance man is he who follows a consistently temperate life throughout. The man whose life is always an exemplary and consistent one is likely to do more for the world than a dozen "reclaimed" individuals, who the oftener they "reform" the greater every time is their misguided zeal. If Rev. L. A. Banks of the so-called temperance paper at Vancouver be the same Rev. L. A. Banks whose relations with the order of Good Templars in Oregon were unpleasantly interrupted by his propensity to drink, his present attitude can be accounted for on the supposition that he thinks now, because he has become virtuous, there shall be no more cakes and ale.

After funding operations now in progress shall have been completed, the only government bonds bearing six per cent. interest will be those issued to the Pacific railway companies and due in 1895 to 1899. There are six per cent. bonds to the amount of $195,690,400, due July 1st, which it is expected will be replaced by three and a half per cents. Should the holders of these bonds generally consent to allow them to be continued at 3½ per cent. interest, the secretary will doubtless make the same offer to the holders of the 5 per cent. bonds, and should they also consent to accept 3½ per cent. there will probably be no successful attempt at refunding at the next session of congress. It will be argued that as the debt has been placed at 3½ per cent., subject to call the position will be better than a long bond at 3 per cent. When all the debt is brought to 3½, 4 and 4½ per cent. bonds, with the great bulk at the minimum figures the condition of things will probably be generally satisfactory. It is only 15 years ago that the government was paying 7.30 per cent. on $813,460,700 and 6 per cent. on $1,185,510,300. It was only 3 years ago that the government was paying 6 per cent. on $1,878,[illegible]. That was the largest amount of 6 per cent. bonds ever outstanding. Few then thought they would all be paid off or exchanged for lower rate bonds by July 1, 1881.

Rents in most of the cities in the United States have advanced greatly within a year past. In Buffalo the increase has been thirty per cent.; in Detroit even a larger increase has been made, while in Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis the increase is nearly equal that of a business man's profits. In Chicago rents are now higher than ever they were. These are facts which do not exactly prove an increase of prosperity. The cost of building material and ground has retarded improvements during the past six years to such a degree, in the cities named, or rather in the regions in which they are located, as to give improved real estate owners a great advantage.

Mr. Reid says his company made no appearance in the case relating to possession of the public levee, just decided by the state supreme court. Before us, however, is a printed copy of a brief in the case on behalf the company filed by Ellis G. Hughes its attorney, before his recent departure for Scotland. In the brief there is an elaborate argument in favor of the right of the company to condemn the levee for a railroad depot. When the bill for costs comes in, as it certainly will soon, Mr. Reid will doubtless be convinced that he actually had a case in the court.

The cynical Springfield Republican says: Trick dogs are sometimes trained to roll over in the dirt for an extra bone or two. The senate of the United States appears to have picked up the same habit when the majority is shown a little patronage within reach.

It looks now as if the democrats were going to give up the dead-lock and go in with Conkling, to help him lick the administration. Things seem to be tending that way.

WHITE'S BUSINESS COLLEGE

Will be carried on without any interruption with able management. Day and evening sessions as usual. Commercial and Penmanship Departments are under the immediate personal supervision of A. P. ARMSTRONG, Principal. Mr. ARMSTRONG is thoroughly conversant with "White's System of Penmanship," besides being an accomplished penman, and has been superintending this department for some time. He will be ably assisted, and the management of this institution will be in all respects fully up to its former excellent standard. It is the intention to carry out the plans and principles of the late manager and proprietor to the letter, thus making this institution, if of the kind, second to none on the coast. Location, No. 128 Front Street, between Washington and Alder sts, Portland, Or.

CITY.

VALUABLE INVENTION AT ALBANY.—We [illegible] learn that Mr. H. Kenton of Albany, after two years of study and experiment, has succeeded in the invention of an electric sluice for saving gold from black sand. The machine is based upon strictly scientific principles, is very simple, easily handled and can quickly be set [illegible] where the miner desires to work. Magnets [illegible] placed upon the sand as it passes [illegible] the sluice boxes in such a way as [illegible] the fact throwing the black sand [illegible] in a porous condition, leaving a free passage through which the gold finds an easy way to the [illegible] in the bottom of the sluice. After the sand is [illegible] through quite a number of sluice boxes, being carried along by a stream of water that runs [illegible] at the head of the sluice, it finally [illegible] a magnetic cylinder that separates, by a revolving brush, the magnetic [illegible] from that which is not magnetic. It is claimed that with the use of this machine fully [illegible] per cent of the gold in the black sand along the sea beach of this coast can be saved. Hitherto [illegible] method of working has [illegible] in saving more than 10 or 20 per cent. From this it will be seen at once how valuable the invention of Mr. [illegible] will prove to be if it will do all that is claimed for it.

IN BEHALF OF THE TEMPERANCE REFORM.—The evening service to-morrow evening at the Unitarian church is under the care of the Open Temperance Meeting, in accordance with the arrangement by which one evening each month is offered to the meeting by the churches of this city in rotation. An interesting programme for the evening has been [illegible]. The excellent choir of the church will furnish special music. Major A. F. Sears will speak on "Intemperance in the Tropics," and Rev. Mr. Eliot on "Temperance in the Discussion of Temperance [illegible]." Rev. Mr. Cruzan will also address the meeting. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

[illegible]—Mr. Dan Kuhn, who was injured in the recent railroad accident near Anderson, Cal., writes to his brother, Mr. Louis Kuhn, in this city, that his wounds are healing rapidly and that he will be out soon. He was thrown through the car window into a creek below, and although rendered unconscious by his injuries, floated about one hundred yards and lodged against some brush. He soon recovered his senses and called for help, which was shortly at hand.

HORSES FOR "HOOKS."—The committee on fire and water and the chief engineer have made all necessary arrangements for a span of horses to be used in drawing the Hook & Ladder truck to and from fires. Yesterday a large team of white horses were hitched to the truck and went spinning up and down the streets for a trial. Everything worked like a charm. When the bell taps again "Hooks" will be on deck with a vengeance.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.—There will be a special conclave at your asylum this (Saturday) evening at 7 o'clock for the installation of officers and conferring the Templar degree. All members are requested to be present. You are further requested to meet at your asylum on Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock, for the purpose of attending divine service at Trinity church.

WILL PARADE.—The members of the Portland uniform division of Knights of Pythias will parade on Decoration day. There will probably be about 40 members in line. The uniforms worn are very handsome and the division promises to constitute one of the most attractive features of the procession.

ACQUITTED.—A little difficulty between Adam Lope and a Mrs. Sullivan, at the [illegible] ferry landing, on Tuesday evening, resulted in the arrest of Mr. Lope. He was taken before Justice Bybee on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. On Thursday an examination was held, resulting in the exoneration of Mr. Lope and his discharge from custody.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Mr. Levi Leland, the well and favorably known temperance lecturer, will deliver a free lecture at Good Templar hall, corner Third and Alder streets, next Tuesday evening, April 26th. Mr. Leland is lecturer of the Grand Lodge I. O. G. T. of Oregon.

SOUTHERN TRADE.—We notice several Jackson county merchants in town during the past week purchasing their spring supplies. Our wholesale merchants are determined to deal in so liberal a manner with their southern Oregon customers as to retain the trade of that section of the state.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR SERVICE.—The [illegible] Knights Templar service at Trinity [illegible] to-morrow (Sunday) evening at [illegible] will be conducted by [illegible] Alfred [illegible] Perkins [illegible]. Every Knight Templar [illegible] should attend.

ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.—A man named Greenwood was arrested last night charged with stealing one dozen red undershirts from the store of Messrs. Kerron & Macbeth. Greenwood was taken to the city jail and locked up. He will have an examination to-day.

THE BIG FOUR.—Mr. I. S. Sheppard, business manager of Hooley, Quinlan & Morton's celebrated Big Four Minstrels, arrived in the city yesterday to make arrangements for the early appearance here of the company. These minstrels are now at Victoria.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS.—Members of Multnomah Council Kadosh are requested to meet at their council chamber to-morrow (Sunday) evening at 6:30 o'clock, for the purpose of attending divine service by invitation of Oregon Commandery No. 1.

OPEN TEMPERANCE MEETING.—An interesting meeting will be held at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. this evening. An address will be delivered by Rev. J. A. Gray, supplemented by vocal and instrumental music. All are cordially invited to come.

ARRESTED.—Mr. S. L. Morse, deputy U. S. marshal at Pendleton, brought down last night B. Perrin, who is charged with cutting timber on the Umatilla Indian reservation. Perrin has served a sentence for selling liquor to Indians.

REDUCTION.—On and after next Monday fares will be reduced on the Vancouver Transportation Co.'s steamers. Full particulars will be given in the next issue.

BRIEF NOTES.

Matinee.

April is not on her good behavior.

Steamer State due this evening.

Steamer Oregon sails hence this afternoon.

Dr. Watkins is having an addition put on his dwelling.

Last performance of the "Pirates of Penzance" this evening.

New and much needed sidewalk just laid on [illegible] st. from Fourteenth to Fifteenth.

The addition to the D street culvert is finished, though it should have been ordered double the length.

The matinee this P. M. will be the last opportunity—but one—of witnessing the "Pirates." The ladies and little folks will bear this fact in mind.

RIVER ITEMS.

The new propeller, built by J. F. Steffen, Esq., presents some very beautiful lines and bids fair to be a fast boat. Apparently she will draw nearly six feet of water. She will be launched to-day (Saturday) at a quarter to [illegible] o'clock P. M. She is to be used by Captain D. E. Buchanan in connection with [illegible] fishing party.

A letter received to-night reports the arrival at San Francisco of the City of Halifax, Captain John Evans, 70 days from Iloilo, Philippine Islands, with sugar chartered for U. K. at 6s. Their many friends in Portland will be glad to hear that Capt. and family are well. Mrs. Evans remained at Cardigan, Wales. Robert Paul is well, but has to give place to another little sister born since the City of Halifax sailed from Portland one year since.

PERSONAL.

A letter from Dr. G. H. Atkinson, dated Brooklyn, N. Y., April 9th, contains these sentences: "My trip has been full of work, with little rest. We will start westward soon."

FOR SALE OR RENT.—Good location. Old [illegible] open until Wednesday next. Enquire at [illegible] Davis & Co.

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

Following is our usual week's summary:

Miss Abbie Hill is visiting her sister, Mrs. [illegible], in San Jose, Cal.

Mrs. Col. N. H. Knight of Salem [illegible] the guest of Mrs. [illegible] Champlin.

Miss Ella Ferry, daughter of [illegible] of Seattle, is visiting Mrs. J. [illegible] Hall.

[illegible] and Mrs. M. F. [illegible] for a short visit to [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] this week.

[illegible] and Mrs. Hoyt [illegible] San Francisco, where they will [illegible].

Miss Hill of St. Louis, who has been visiting here since last winter, will leave for home [illegible].

[illegible] will remain in this city until [illegible] the guest of Mrs. F. W. St[illegible], corner of Second and Market sts.

Mr. Adolph Walter, manager of Walter Bros.' establishment in this city, has gone on a trip to San Francisco to take a much needed rest.

Mrs. Florence Knaggs, daughter of [illegible] visiting Mrs. H. C. Morris at Vancouver.

Miss Sylvia Gerrish, who visited [illegible] a few weeks since as a member of the [illegible], is now at Visalia, California. The young lady has gone to that place on account of her health.

Mr. J. Kaufman, heretofore with M. S. [illegible], will leave Portland in a few days for Baker City, where he will assume the position of bookkeeper for the firm of Kaufman Bros. & [illegible].

Mr. G. B. Woodruff of Glasgow, Scotland, arrived on the last steamer from San Francisco, and is sojourning in this city. Mr. Woodruff [illegible] Australia to San Francisco. Mr. W. [illegible] several weeks in the state. He expresses himself very well pleased with the social and industrial condition of Oregon, and thinks a great future awaits the country.

[illegible]

Mr. C. M. [illegible] will be married [illegible] Wednesday [illegible].

Mrs. [illegible] of the Baptist [illegible].

Two private receptions will be tendered Miss [illegible] next week, one Monday, the other Wednesday evening.

The officers and ladies of Vancouver post gave an elegant masquerade ball at the new hall last night. Several Portlanders were present.

The young bachelors who gave a series of [illegible] at Masonic Hall last winter will [illegible] the season with a German next Wednesday evening.

Martha Washington Lodge, Degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., will give a grand May day festival, concert and ball at New Market Theater on Monday evening of next week.

Wednesday evening the fourteenth birthday of Miss Nellie, daughter of Mr. C. A. Freeman of the O. R. & N. Co., was celebrated by a very enjoyable party, which was attended by a bevy of little misses and boys.

The twenty-first birthday of Mr. A. C. Carter, pressman in Himes' establishment, was celebrated last night at the residence of his father, on Fifth street, near Caruthers. About sixty guests were present and the evening was pleasantly spent.

Thursday evening about eighty young ladies and gentlemen friends of Miss Ella Gilman tendered her a surprise party. They assembled at Mrs. [illegible] and went in a body to Capt. Gilman's and then adjourned to Centennial Hall, where dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

Mr. Linden Bates, formerly with the Northern Pacific Railroad in the capacity of civil engineer, was married at his former home in Chicago on the 4th instant to Miss Josephine L. White. Mr. and Mrs. Bates arrived here by the Columbia and will make their home with Maj. A. F. Sears, corner of Ninth and Main streets.

Thursday evening Mr. Kenneth Macleay, of the firm of Messrs. Corbitt & Macleay of this city, was married in San Francisco to Miss Sutherland, eldest daughter of Mr. A. C. Sutherland, late of Montreal, Canada. The ceremony was performed at St. John's church by Rev. Dr. Scott. The bride and groom are well known and highly respected over this state and Washington territory. Mr. and Mrs. Macleay left yesterday for Los Angeles, where they will remain for a month and then come to Portland.

[illegible] wedding with a tinge of romance occurred at Salem last Monday, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank H. Darling of San Francisco, now in this city engaged in writing a history of Oregon, and Miss Addie L. Skinner of Yreka, Cal. [illegible] the union was not given by the young lady's parents, so upon the advice of a [illegible] Mr. Darling, she took the north bound stage [illegible] three days roughing it, reached Roseburg. Miss Skinner then proceeded to Salem and went to the residence of her uncle, Mr. W. W. Skinner, about [illegible] the O. & C. R. R., where she was met by Mr. Darling. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. P. S. Knight. The next morning Mr. and Mrs. Darling came to this city, where they will temporarily reside.

FAREWELL PARTY.

Wednesday evening a party was given at the residence of Mr. Frank Dekum by his daughter, Miss Lisa Dekum, and Miss Ella Steel, in honor of Miss Elise Hill of St. Louis [illegible]. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. A. [illegible] Lanmer, Mrs. Horace Thielsen, Misses Fannie and Kate Holman, Miss Bell Dibble, Miss Lida [illegible], Miss Tillie DeWitt, Miss Tina Gaston, Miss Alla Williams, Miss Clara Wolf, Miss Anna [illegible], Miss Sophie Holman, Miss Allie Higgins, Miss [illegible] Stout, Miss Inez Smith, Miss Annie Sutton, Miss Lillie Murray, Miss Emma Millard, Prof. J. F. Henderson, Messrs. John Watson, R. J. Curry, C. O. [illegible], Herb Holman, G. G. Gammans, A. Gammans, J. J. Chapelle, J. [illegible], Wm. Wallace, Otto Dekum, Frank Higgins, Frank DeWitt, O. F. Paxton, Chas. Cardwell, Frank Churchill, A. F. Monroe, R. M. Demint, Dr. Brown and R. H. Alden.

THE ANTHONY-CAPLES NUPTIALS.

The wedding of Mr. Arthur Anthony, son of Rev. C. V. Anthony, formerly pastor of Taylor street M. E. church in this city, now a pastor in Oakland, to Miss Mollie Caples, daughter of Hon. J. F. Caples, district attorney, was solemnized last Wednesday evening by Rev. J. H. Acton. Among those present on the occasion were Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Acton, Rev. and Mrs. H. K. Hines, Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Izer, Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Stubbs, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jones, ex-Gov. and Mrs. A. C. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. A. Noltner, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Mulkey, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. D. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lamberson, Mrs. C. D. Vantine and Prof. T. H. Crawford and quite a number of young people.

SHAKESPEARIAN RECEPTION.

The Shakespeare Club of Salem is a time honored institution of that city, embracing among its membership the wealth, fashion and elite of the capital. They meet weekly during the winter months, having a hall and necessary stage accessories for amateur renditions of works of the immortal bard whose name they bear. They are also tendered receptions from time to time, and no gathering is complete without representatives at least from its ranks. In view of the near close of the season Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Croasman, ably assisted by Mrs. W. B. Crane, on Friday evening last received the club and a few invited guests, the attendance being large and the entertainment select. Their elegant double parlors were thrown into one, a dark gauze curtain across the folding doors separating the audience from the stage, which was erected in the rear room. The lights were arranged with excellent effect, giving the stage a distant appearance and adding materially to the delusion. The guests being all assembled, the following programme was carried out, in the rendition of which it would be unjust to discriminate, all doing remarkably well and rarely failing to receive merited tributes of applause. Most of the Shakespearian characters appeared in costume, which, while impromptu and embracing piano covers, quilts, colored cambrics and a liberal display of tin plate spangles, interspersed here and there with brassy feathers, slouch hats and villainous looking side arms, the general effect was none the less delusive than that of the professional stage, while a close examination of the costumes added its mite to the merriment of the evening.

PROGRAMME.

Scene from King Richard the Third. Part of act 4, scene 1—King Richard, M. S. Chamberlain; Bolingbroke, E. M. Waite; Northumberland, C. B. Moores.

Recitation—Little Jimmie (in costume), Miss Ethel Crane.

Living pictures—Olivia, Mrs. W. B. Crane.

Scene from King Henry the Eighth. Act 2, scene 4—Queen Catherine, Mrs. E. M. Waite; King Henry, Warner Breyman; Wolsey, [illegible] Waite; [illegible]pius, E. M. Waite.

Vocal solo—The Lover and the Birds, Miss Olive Chamberlain.

Scene from As You Like It. Part of act 1, scene 1—Celia, Mrs. A. B. Croasman; Rosalind, Mrs. S. W. Church; Duke, Frank H. McDowell.

Vocal solo—The Cows are in the Corn, Miss Olive Chamberlain.

Reading—Setting the Hen, E. M. Waite.

Living pictures—Hubert and the Prince, S. W. Church and Miss Ethel Crane.

Scene from Midsummer Night's Dream. Act 1, part of scene 2—Lysander, S. W. Church; Demetrius, C. B. Moores; Helena, Miss Mary Hill; Hermia, Miss Elva Breyman.

The programme being completed, the rooms were cleared and the balance of the evening devoted to music, conversation and the discussion of the excellent and choice viands prepared by the charming hostess.

[illegible] INTERPRETATION OF THE MAZURKA.

A WISE DEACON.

"Deacon Wilder, I want you to tell me how you kept yourself and family so well the past season, when all the rest of us have been sick so much and have had the doctors running to us so long."

"Bro. Taylor, the answer is very easy. I used Hop Bitters in time and kept my family well and saved large doctor bills. Three dollars' worth of it kept us all well and able to work all the time, and I will warrant it has cost you and most of the neighbors one to two hundred dollars apiece to keep sick the same time. I guess you'll take my medicine hereafter. See other column."

MANIPULATION OF RAILROAD STOCK.

MILLIONS THAT CONSIST OF WIND AND WATER.

Analysis of Statements Bearing on the Villard-Northern Pacific Injunction Suit.

[From the New York World, April [illegible].]

The suit pending for an injunction restraining the issue of $18,000,000 of reserved stock by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has brought to mind and gives importance again to the career, chiefly on paper and in the halls of congress, of the Northern Pacific Company since its charter was granted in 1864. The following statement, obtained from a gentleman thoroughly conversant with the history and affairs of the company, contains many facts not contained or hinted at in the papers on which the preliminary injunction was issued, and also some information as to the way in which a great enterprise which has something of a national character and has secured national grants has been managed for the benefit of a very few persons, at least one of whom now holds a high and responsible position in the government:

The charter of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company was granted July 2, 1864, and provided that the persons named therein should be a board of commissioners and should meet at Boston to organize and to open books for subscription for the stock, and it was provided that as soon as subscriptions were made in good faith for 20,000 shares and $10 a share had been actually paid in, the subscribers were to elect directors and officers to succeed to all the rights and duties of the original commissioners. The charter whose duties were thereto terminate. The charter provided that the board of directors should "require payment of a 10 per cent cash assessment upon all subscriptions received of all subscribers," and the remainder should be paid as needed to complete the road. The amount of stock authorized was $100,000,000, so that when all was subscribed for there should be in the treasury at least $10,000,000 with which to begin the enterprise. On September 1, 1864, the commissioners met at Boston and organized, and books of subscriptions were opened. According to a report made in the fall of 1864 more than 20,000 shares of this capital stock were actually subscribed for and $10 per share actually paid up. On December 6, 1864, at a meeting of these subscribers, there appeared to be 20,075 shares subscribed for, so that the company's treasury should have held $200,750, and at this meeting these subscribers proceeded to elect the thirteen directors of the company, who completed the organization by the election of officers.

Notice of the acceptance of the charter was shortly afterwards served on the president of the United States, and this great corporation swung out upon its career with an authorized capital of $100,000,000, a gift of public lands of "more than 50,000,000 acres, extending in a broad belt from Wisconsin through the richest portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington Territory to Puget Sound;" a domain larger than all the New England states with Maryland added, with a prospective power of levying tolls and taxes upon millions of the people of this country for generations. Shortly afterwards there was added the right to issue mortgage bonds to the extent of $125,000,000. In 1866 the company appeared before congress and obtained an extension of two years for "commencing and completing its roads. In 1868 it obtained a second act granting to the company all its rights, privileges and lands on condition "that the said company shall commence the work on said road within two years." In 1869 the right to issue mortgage bonds was granted, and a further right to mortgage was granted in 1870. "Thus for six years prior to 1870 it appears that the company was not building its road, and it might be supposed that it was engaged in obtaining subscriptions for its stock and preparing to build, for by the charter unless the company "shall obtain bona fide subscriptions of the stock to the amount of $2,000,000, with ten per centum paid within two years" after the passage of the act, then the charter was to be void. This time by the act of 1868 was extended only to 1870.

The injunction litigation has brought to light the hitherto concealed transactions of persons who from the beginning have managed the property and the great grants of power, and will disclose the private contracts and agreements which will show the manner in which this important trust and enterprise has been manipulated to the advantage of a few men, Secretary Windom being one of them, and how the manifest purpose of congress has been diverted from its national character to that of a private enterprise.

It is to be remembered that $100,000,000 of capital was to be opened to subscriptions, and upon subscriptions upon any part of it 10 per cent. was to be paid in money, and as the needs of the company should require, the subscribers were to pay other assessments in money up to the par value of their subscriptions. No other mode of issuing or acquiring this capital stock was contemplated, and this source of funds, with the lands estimated by the charter to be worth at least $125,000,000, was to be employed for building and equipping this national railroad. In addition to this the power was subsequently granted to issue mortgage bonds to the extent of $125,000,000, as the building of the road went on. The litigation above referred to involves the issue of about one hundred and eighty thousand shares of stock of the par value of $18,000,000, the market price of which at the time of the alleged issue was about $6,000,000. It now appears that one certificate for the whole of the 180,000 shares was placed by the company with the transfer agent about the 18th of March, the time the issue was authorized by the executive committee, and immediately divided up by transfers upon the books among a small number of persons, by far the greater part going directly to the officers and some of the directors of the company; the president of the company receiving at least 17,000 shares, the treasurer more than 6000 shares, and Secretary Windom 2146. No pretense is made that the company received anything for this $3,000,000 worth of property. It is explained that these shares were distributed to these persons as holders of "old proprietary interests." "This is a convenient expression," remarked The World's informant at this point, "and has a real meaning, as we shall see by looking into these injunction papers, where the secret agreements we have spoken of first find publicity."

On January 10, 1867, an agreement was entered into by some twelve persons, among whom are four of the defendants in the suit, which after describing the charter of the Northern Pacific Company, says that "the control of said charter and franchise is now in the hands of J. Gregory Smith, of St. Alban's, Vt., and his associates, and said Smith and his associates have paid for the procurement of the charter and other expenses (the procurement of congressional aid) the sum of $102,000 in cash exclusive of any compensation for himself or his associates, and have issued the certificate of indebtedness of the company bearing interest from March, 1866, for $100,000 additional and have agreed to recognize the stock of the company issued by Josiah Perham, late president of the company, to the amount of $600,000." It then proposes "to divide the said enterprise into twelve shares, to be valued at the rate of $8500 per share, and agrees that each of the twelve persons subscribers hereto shall pay on demand of said Smith the sum of $8500 for each one-twelfth part or share in said enterprise, and upon payment shall become jointly interested with said Smith and his associates according to the number of shares or parts of shares so subscribed for by him in the charter and franchise of the Northern Pacific Railroad, with all its rights, powers, privileges and immunities.'" It then provides for a combined attempt to get further aid and legislation from congress, and that "each share in the enterprise shall be entitled to one director in the company" to be thereafter elected. On July 3, 1867, another agreement was made between the same persons to use further effort to obtain aid from congress, that assessments not to exceed $12,000 might be made upon any of the twelve parts or shares as contribution for expenses in obtaining legislation. On May 20, 1869, an agreement was made between J. Gregory Smith as president and six of the directors of the company acting as executive committee, on the one part, and Jay Cook & Company on the other part. This agreement recites the division of interest into the twelve parts or shares, and creates six (afterwards increased to twelve) more parts to be held and enjoyed by Jay Cooke & Co., subject to the two agreements of 1867, given above. It then provides that "the capital stock of said company, $100,000,000, shall be appropriated as follows, that is to say, $80,000,000 shall be subscribed for by the representatives of the eighteen (afterwards twenty-four) shares above described in equal proportions by each share, and shall be issued in full paid-up stock to each of said eighteen shares," $2,241,000 of which was to be issued at once and the remainder from time to time; and "the residue of said capital stock, $10,000,000 shall be delivered to Jay Cooke & Co. in full paid-up stock of equal value with the rest of said stock" in such amounts that Jay Cooke & Co. shall have $200 of stock (afterwards increased to $400) for every $1,000 of bonds of the company sold by them. This agreement then provided for the issue by the company of one hundred millions of bonds to be negotiated by Jay Cooke & Co. The thirteenth section of this agreement provides for the payment to all the holders of these eighteen (afterwards twenty-four) parts or shares for all amounts paid by them or expenses incurred, with interest, and for their personal service, by giving them these bonds of the company at the rate of 88 cents on the dollar. So that now J. Gregory Smith and his associates, including Secretary Windom, and the twelve shareholders who became liable to pay for legislation, etc., got back their money with interest in marketable bonds at twelve per cent. below par. The $600,000 worth of stock said to have been "issued by Josiah Perham, late president of the company," was also by the agreement to be taken up and retired with these bonds at the rate of 50 cents on the dollar of said stock.

But the most remarkable exposure made by this agreement is its recital of the fact that the 20,000 shares originally subscribed for, and upon which the company was organized at Boston, had been "forfeited for non-payment of assessment."

It is therefore known now out of the mouths of the persons at present claiming this $18,000,000 of new stock that all the originally subscribed stock had been extinguished; that the 6000 shares of Perham stock, however created, was to be extinguished; that J. Gregory Smith "and his associates" and the persons afterwards joining him in the enterprise for getting congressional aid—that is, these present payments—were to be paid for all advances "and compensation for personal services and expenses" out of company bonds at an extravagant shave.

The agreement shows more, by implication—that at this time, excepting the 6000 Perham stock to be immediately extinguished, there was no stock of this company of any kind in existence, none had been ever subscribed for as contemplated by the charter except the 20,000 shares already forfeited. But the parties to these agreements calling themselves the Northern Pacific railroad company, without subscription or payment of 10 per cent as required by the charter, without any consideration to the company from them of any kind, because all their expenses, advances and personal services were paid for in bonds—these persons, without the payment of a dollar, agreed to issue to themselves and Jay Cooke & Co. $80,000,000 of stock, and besides this to issue to Jay Cooke & Co. a further $10,000,000 at the rate of $400 for every $1000 bond the latter should sell. A large part of the $80,000,000 was to be divided at once among these persons, and the remainder to be issued, but always to them, as the road was built. This is, then, the "old proprietary interests," and these persons and their "assigns" are the "proprietors" who upon this state of fact claimed the ownership of and have received from themselves, as the company, the $18,000,000 of stock just issued.

But a word need be said as to the effect of the foreclosure by the [illegible] in 187[illegible]. Under this foreclosure all the property and franchises of the company were [illegible] by the bondholders, [illegible] by a [illegible] Secretary Windom was a member, and a plan of reorganization was carried [illegible] by which preferred stock was issued in exchange for bonds, and [illegible] substitution of old common stock.

The original twelve "proprietors" were J. Gregory Smith, W. B. [illegible], R. H. [illegible], D. S. Barnes, W. R. [illegible], B. Barnes, [illegible], W. G. Fargo, G. W. Cass, J. Edgar Thomson and Edward [illegible]. When Jay Cooke became the financial agent of the company and the number of "proprietors" was increased to twenty-four, Mr. Secretary Windom appears in the [illegible] connection with the company. The [illegible] record shows that Secretary Windom's connection with the scheme was most intimate during [illegible] ran a bill further extending the time of the Northern Pacific road, and giving it even greater privileges than it before possessed, through the senate railroad committee, of which he was a member, and then by persistent pushing got it passed through the senate. The agreement of these "proprietors" was that of the $80,000,000 left after Jay Cooke had been granted $10,000,000 for selling bonds, $2,241,000 was to be issued to them directly and the remainder, $77,762,000, was to be issued at $10,000 to each of said twenty-four shares who never and so often as twenty-five miles of said road is completed, as as to be run over by cars." The company has now completed about six hundred and fifty miles of road, and according to this agreement but about one-third of this $77,760,000 should now be issued, and the executive committee have again violated the agreement in issuing this last $18,000,000 of "reserve" stock. These payments were so arranged that the last should be made when the road should be completed, but the stock has all been issued, and there are between 1200 and 1500 miles of road yet to be built. In short it appears that not only the $18,000,000 recently issued but all the stock of the road has been issued in contravention of the charter, not one cent being paid in for it, and that it was divided up among Secretary Windom, Jay Cooke and the others who call themselves owners of "proprietary interests." Mr. Secretary Windom got his full share of the $18,000,000 as was his due as a "proprietor," about [illegible] of the whole, and he was one of the first after the issue was authorized on March 18 to rush to the Trust Company with his stock. He sold it, but under the ruling of the Stock Exchange no Northern Pacific stock bearing a date subsequent to March 18 was considered a good delivery, and so Mr. Secretary Windom had to go into the market and buy it back at 42 and 48, which was more than he had sold it for.

FRIDAY, April 22.

Business in wheat yesterday was active at a decline. We learn of one sale of 650 tons at $1 28. Another lot of 400 tons was sold at a rate slightly above this and several other lots went at a rate between $1 28@1 30. The former figure is the market quotation. It is anticipated that offerings will not be free at this reduced price, at least not for several days.

The steamship Columbia, which sails to-morrow morning for San Francisco will take out 1420 ¼ sks. flour, 687 sks. oats, 4 M ft. ash lumber, 433 bdls hoops, 1250 sks potatoes, 257 pkgs hides, 10 cases beer, 2052 sks flax seed, 46 bdls sheep pelts, 15 pkgs woolen goods.

It will be seen by reference to our dispatches that the Anglo-American syndicate and the Frankfort committee have come to an "amicable arrangement" and that O. & C. R. R. bonds advanced 3 per cent today in consequence. It is understood that this means that the roads of the company are to be put on a new basis and that the main line will be continued from Roseburg south.

Yesterday there was a still further advance in O. R. & N. and Northern Pacific stocks in New York. The former sold as high as 157, and the latter as high as 41½ for common and 72½ for preferred.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, April 22.—There are no new features in the clipper freight market which continues quiet although not more so than might be expected at this season. Rates are hardly so firm, yet held up very well considering the state of the market. Railroad freights are also rather quiet, although shipments are quite fair for the season, including during the past week, 525 kegs and 94 bbls syrup, 335 cases canned goods, 2459 pkgs starch, 100 cases milk, 265 boxes lemons, 225 cases currant, 50 boxes pepper sauce, 1071 pkgs tobacco, 100 kegs herring and 65 cases salad oil.

Markets are generally dull, but prices are firm.

Wheat—Is 2c higher and excited. Shippers are out of the market.

Barley—Neglected.

Pork—10@15c higher; dull.

Lard—2c higher; dull.

Rio Coffee—Unchanged.

Refined Sugars—Good demand.

Hides—Firm; quiet.

Turpentine—Less active; steady.

Petroleum—Active and higher.

THE BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, April 22.—There is a steady demand for wool and prices are more settled than for some previous weeks. It looks as if bottom prices have been reached for fine fleeces. Manufacturers have been operating more freely. Sales of the week have been upwards of 2,000,000 lbs, of which 405,000 lbs were fine Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia fleeces at 40@41c for X, 40@42 for XX, 45@44 for XXX and fancy clips. Best XX fleeces now firm at 41½c. Michigan and Wisconsin X fleeces have been selling at 37@38c, Vermont X at [illegible] and New Hampshire X [illegible]. There is more doing in California wool, with considerable inquiry for [illegible] markets. New York buyers and others are looking around. Sales have been 415,000 lbs, 18 [illegible]30c for spring, 15 @25 for fall. Pulled wools have been in demand with sales of 341,000 lbs, including large lines of western supers at 32@37c; good and very choice eastern 40@50c. Some considerable X pulled has been sold at 37@43c. In unwashed fleeces there have been sales of 250,000 lbs of all grades and qualities.

THE ENGLISH GRAIN MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, April 22.—A leading grain circular says: A rise in prices in the United States has caused wheat on this side to yield for an advance in position. There was rather more activity in various spot markets but only a few advanced slightly. Business in cargoes off coast and future arrivals was slow. They were held above buyers' ideas. On spot and in neighborhood since Tuesday there was a good consumptive demand for wheat. Attendance at to-day's market was average. A moderate consumptive demand for wheat continues. Flour, except some particular brands, is dull.

OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER

REGISTERED MARCH 25, 1879.

BLOOD IS THE LIFE!

OMNES PROSINT—HEALTH FOR ALL.

IT HAS A MARKED EFFECT wherever there is an atonic effect of the Visceral Muscular Coat, such as Dyspepsia, Headache, Neuralgia, Vomiting, Bilious Attacks, Rheumatism, Pains in the Stomach and Bowels, Irregularity of the Bowels, Costiveness and Constipation, which are so obstinate and yet so common in cities, where people of necessity must live a sedentary life most of the year.

A Lady in this City, who had been a sufferer for years from obstinate Constipation of the Bowels, and had been unable to obtain relief from other medicines, was relieved after one week by the use of the celebrated "OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER," and she is PERMANENTLY CURED [illegible].

In this case [illegible] "Oregon Blood Purifier" was THE REMEDY [illegible].

Price per Bottle, $1; or Six Bottles for $5.

TROPIC FRUIT LAXATIVE

Prepared from tropical fruits and plants.

Is thorough in its Medicinal Action, and yet so agreeable to the taste that patrons often disregard our injunction to divide the lozenge into parts (say two doses) to meet their respective cases. At the outset it is especially essential to observe the directions closely till one becomes accustomed to its use — when mild action and the most satisfactory results are sure to follow.

Ladies and children, and those who dislike taking pills and nauseous medicines to secure cathartic action, are especially pleased with its agreeable qualities.

Try it once, and you will esteem it highly as a safe, pleasant and effective remedy.

Packed in bronzed tin boxes only.

Price, 25 cents.

Large boxes, 60 cents.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of Disease of the generative organs of private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the FOLLIES OF YOUTH.

Such as SPERMATORRHŒA, or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly, from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty, and sometimes from ignorance, and permit the disease to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organizations broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death become a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, be cured without fail.

Consult it on Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—No. 93 First street, between [illegible] and [illegible]. Office Hours—From 10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

All letters of professional business must be addressed to DR. PAUL M. BRENAN & CO., Portland, Oregon.
